

MOIR IS EASY MARK FOR TOMMY BURNS

American, By Disposing of English Competitor, is Heavy Champion.

FIGHT LAST BUT TEN ROUNDS

Moir Was Plucky, but Otherwise Was Outclassed by the American Pug.

LONDON, December 2.—Tommy Burns, of America, knocked out Gunner Moir, of England, in the tenth round before the National Sporting Club here to-night. Englishmen never had great hopes of the ability of their representative to regain their lost honors in the boxing arena, and in a somewhat exciting contest the American champion had a comparatively easy task in disposing of Moir's pretensions, and securing for himself the title of heavyweight champion of the world.

After the fifth round Burns' victory was certain, and in the tenth, when the Englishman failed to rise to the call of time and was literally cut to pieces, Burns left the ring with scarcely a mark. Moir owes the right to participate in championship matches more to influence than merit, and his defeat, therefore, was not a matter of general surprise.

Burns proved himself superior in every detail. He displayed greater science and infinitely better generalship, and his blows were delivered with much more power than were those of the Englishman. It was an easy victory for the American, which, from the very outset, appeared almost a foregone conclusion.

Burns was favorite. Burns entered the ring the favorite at odds of 7 to 4. The work in the first round was mostly at long range, the fighters springing warily. Finally Burns landed two heavy blows on the Englishman's head, and the latter was cautioned. They fought at long range again in the third round, Burns being too clever for his adversary, who began to show signs of the punishment he had received.

The pace increased in the second round, the men getting into close quarters, where Burns showed his superiority and did a lot of damage on Moir's body. He received a nasty jolt under the chin, however, which brought him down, but he soon recovered and continued the fight. Moir clinched heavily and was cautioned. They fought at long range again in the third round, Burns being too clever for his adversary, who began to show signs of the punishment he had received.

In the fourth Burns took a breather, which allowed Moir to have just a shade the better of a light round. Burns came back again hard in the fifth, forcing the fight from the Englishman's side. He landed a right on the jaw and a long left swing cut Moir severely over the eye.

The sixth round was all in favor of the American, whose foot-work completely baffled his opponent. Moir became very wild in his attempts to get in his right.

Moir badly punished. In the seventh, Burns sent home a terrific swing, which made an ugly gash in the Englishman's cheek. They came to close quarters, the Englishman clinching and thus avoiding the full force of two well-meant rights. Moir looked like a beaten man.

In the eighth, however, he came back gamely and with the intent of trying to stand off the American, but he was fought all over the ring and was badly punished. Burns set upon him unmercifully in the ninth round, administering terrific punishment.

Burns came quickly to the center of the ring in the tenth round, matters from the start. He sent the Englishman to the floor with a short right-arm jolt. Moir rose, only to be floored again from a hard left on the jaw. He struggled to his feet, but was an easy victim for another cross on the jaw, and, going down, was unable to respond to the call of time. A tremendous crowd outside the National Sporting Club awaited the result, and the announcement of Burns' easy victory caused the greatest excitement.

Tommy Burns, the winner, hails from Detroit, Mich., and his real name is James Moir, of the British royal navy. The men fought for a purse of $5,000, and $5,000 of the best claim, which was a straight championship of Queensberry affair, with fifteen rounds. Burns' weight was 170 pounds and Moir's 165. The fight was refereed by Eugene Corri, of London.

ALL-EASTERN TEAM AND SECOND PICK

Stars of Gridiron for the Season as Selected by Great Newspaper.

The New York Herald is one of the first newspapers in the country to pick an all-American football team for the season of 1907. Its selections being announced Sunday in the Herald's make-up of the eleven Yale is given three members: Princeton and Pennsylvania, two each; Harvard, Cornell, Carleton and Syracuse, one each. No consideration appears to have been given to the Western and Southern divisions, the team, while labeled all-American, being picked from the Eastern eleven.

In the second eleven Princeton, Pennsylvania, Harvard and the Naval Academy are given two each, and West Point, Cornell and Dartmouth one each. One surprise of these selections is that Mount Pleasant, the great Indian football team, is not considered on either team. Hauer, the great Indian football team, is given a position at halfback.

Here are the Herald's selections:
All-American Eleven.
Ends—Wister (Princeton) and Alcott (Yale).
Tackles—Draper (Pennsylvania) and Horr (Syracuse).
Guards—Thompson (Cornell) and Ziegler (Pennsylvania).
Center—Phillips (Princeton).
Quarterback—Jones (Yale).
Halfbacks—Hauser (Carleton) and Wendell (Harvard).
Fullback—Coy (Yale).

Second Eleven.
Ends—MacDonald (Harvard) and Dague (Navy).
Tackles—O'Rourke (Cornell) and Bankhart (Dartmouth).
Guards—Erwin (Army) and Gallagher (Pennsylvania).
Center—Grant (Harvard).
Quarterback—Dillon (Princeton).
Halfbacks—Douglas (Navy) and Folwell (Pennsylvania).
Fullback—McCormick (Princeton).

War to the Knife. Louis Reed, colored, was charged in the Police Court yesterday morning with disarming at James Bowman, and was dismissed. On the charge of carrying a concealed weapon he was fined $100 and costs.

Florence Tallaferro and Walter Scott, both colored, engaged in a struggle Saturday night. It was a war to the knife, and both were badly cut up. Each was fined $10.

Ends—Fleming, of Hampden-Sidney, and Waddell, of Washington and Lee, Tackles—Diffendall, of V. P. I., and Thraves, of Richmond College. Guards—Wise, of University of Virginia, and R. Hodgson, of V. P. I. Center—Gloth, of Virginia, and Johnson, of V. P. I. Quarterback—Feuerstine, of William and Mary, or Honaker, of University of Virginia. Halfbacks—Neff, of Virginia, and Luttrell, of V. P. I., with Joyner, of Hampden-Sidney, and Powell, of Randolph-Macon, as alternates.

Fullback—Yancey, of Virginia; Al-dred, of Washington and Lee, or V. P. I. Some choice has been among several in the back field for the reason that it is hard to judge from a single game. Waddell's punting gives him a place on the team, but he might be played in the position of fullback as well. In choosing the ends, Fleming, of Hampden-Sidney, is undoubtedly to be considered.

Rowe, of Randolph-Macon, made a brilliant record in an end in getting away with forward passes, as did Saunders, of Richmond College, but all things considered, it is probable that the honors should go to Fleming and Waddell. Diffendall clearly ranks as one of the tacklers. Captain Thraves, of Richmond College, has held his own against the best in Virginia or Carolina, and is an experienced player. Cloth, of Virginia, by his brilliant of-

Pa says there are six essentials to a happy home: one is a good cook and the other five are money. That's true. This is a money month, and we are entering the home stretch for happy days, all right. Have you topped off your winter suit or overcoat yet? There's a wide range of colors to choose from this season, between the browns, the blues and the grays, and all are moderately priced. Some of the brown mixtures are very swell. The patterns come from little old Paris. No one but a Frenchman could think out such ideas, but they're very becoming to some men. Just like all new things—some can wear them and look fine, while others can't. The beauty of it is we have the variety for you, so you can take just what you like. Suits to $20, but in this month—the earlier, the better.

offensive and defensive playing and his tackling is clearly enticed to honors at center, with Johnson a close competitor. For his weight, Stringfellow, of Richmond, has made a fine showing, but he has not had the experience of the other two named.

Hard to Pick Back Field. It may seem strange to some that Feuerstine, of William and Mary, should be ranked ahead of the quarters on the stronger teams, but when his judgment in running the ball and his remarkable field-goal kicking, and his ability as a runner in a broken field or behind interference are considered, he probably has a shade on Honaker, Virginia's fleet runner and clever general.

For fullback Yancey, of Virginia, has as good a claim to the honors as any on his work this season, though Al-dred, of Washington and Lee, judging by his season's work, will compete with him for the honors.

Among the halfbacks Joyner, of William and Mary, and Powell, of Randolph-Macon, considered both as offensive and as defensive players, rank close to Neff and Luttrell. Masie, of V. M. I., is also a fast and clever halfback.

More talent is developed at quarter than at almost any other position this year. Besides those named, Sheppard, of V. P. I., deserves mention, and Harlan, of Randolph-Macon, though played at half and later at fullback, would be ample material from which to choose a team, he better fitted for quarterback. He would make a brilliant quarter.

"A Contented Woman," which is the bill at the Bijou for this week, is one of Hoyt's amusing comedies, which play the most conspicuous parts, and into which are introduced some ludicrous situations. Charles P. Morrison, as a bachelor clubman, and Herbert Heywood, as Uncle Toddy, divided honors in last night's performance, and while Henrietta Lee is not as good in "A Contented Woman" as she was in "The Beauty Doctor," she is still her charming self, and the four gowns and the hats worn by her, as well as those of Gertrude Daniels, were exquisite, and threw the feminine portion of the audience into raptures. The best specialties of the performance are those rendered by Miss Royo, whose dancing well deserved the great applause, and Emmet O'Connor, who has quite a good voice.

"The Great Divide," a picturesque and beautifully written drama of white American life, from the pen of William Vaughn Moody, has been hailed by many of the leading dramatic reviewers as the best American play. The play will be presented at the Academy of Music, under the direction of the distinguished actor, Henry Miller, and will be given to-morrow matinee and night, with a fine company, and the entire production with the complete scenic equipment, as shown during the recent phenomenal engagement of over 500 performances in New York City during this season and last.

Wild Animal Show. Ferar's jungle and trained wild animal arena entered upon its second week at Idlewood Park last evening, and large and appreciative audience turning out.

The concerts by the Ferar grand concert band added much to the pleasure of the visitors at both performances. These concerts will be a permanent feature and all the latest musical hits will be played from time to time.

Captain Winston's group of scale and sealions continue to delight the patrons of the jungle. These animals have been seen here, and in their act they never fail to bring down the house.

La Belle Selica continues to win applause. Martin's bears are as funny as ever, and Robert Macpherson, with his collection of Japs, puts on an act that makes one tingle with excitement.

At Skating Rink. Not satisfied with the result of their race last week when "Figs" won the contest, after Taylor had fallen on the next to the last lap, the two fast youngsters will again meet on Friday night at the skating rink, as there is intense rivalry between them, the contest will doubtless prove a good one.

A hurdle race with about a half dozen participants will also be a feature on Friday night.

The pictures this week are thoroughly entertaining, being among the most interesting of any yet seen here.

CAPTAIN WISE BETTER. Former Congressman George D. Wise, who has been ill for several days, is now much improved, and is able to sit up.

Captain Wise was suffering from heart trouble, but he is rapidly recovering, and hopes to be out in a few days. He is at the William Byrd Hotel, and is under the care of Dr. W. T. Oppenheimer.
